

SCOPE AND TOPICS

Investigation of biological and chemical properties of natural products has encouraged the development of many plant based drugs for human welfare. The workshop is intended to train the researchers with modern techniques related to isolation and characterization of natural products using several chromatographic and spectroscopic techniques. The workshop will provide a platform to have practical hands on experience of sophisticated analytical instruments such as HPLC, GC, FTIR and LCMS etc. The scholars would also get a chance to interact and discuss the technologies with experts invited for lectures.

PARTICIPANTS

The course is open mainly to the Postgraduate students and Research Scholars from Life Sciences (Biotechnology, Botany, Microbiology and Zoology) stream. Participants should carry laptop, if possible.

Registration Fees: Rs 1000
